

WORKSHOP SERIES

Strata Management: Implementing Successful Environmental, Social and Governance Strategies

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

- ESG or environmental, social, and governance planning, is now on everyone's mind. And there's a reason for this: 2021 will mark the commencement of a new era that will centre on sustainability and climate. While some are excited, others are confused about what this potentially herculean task will entail, especially for the Facilities Management and Real-Estate industries.
- From investing in green buildings to adopting green sustainable energy solutions, investors, tenants and occupiers are all conscious of the impact our decisions can have on the environment. Implementing sustainable practices is not an option anymore, it is a must. In light of this, how can Facilities, Operations and Building Managers devise and implement successful ESG strategies to add value to their properties and make their tenants happy?
