

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (AI) IN REAL ESTATE: UNDERSTANDING THE LEGAL & REGULATORY LANDSCAPE

4 October 2024 (Friday); 2.00pm – 5.00pm

Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies are increasingly used to facilitate real estate transactions and provide customer service, promising efficiency gains and data-driven insights. However, as AI becomes integrated into real estate processes, legal challenges emerge. Errors or misunderstandings arising from AI interactions can lead to contractual disputes or liability issues.

Experts at the session on 4 October will explore the legal and technological routes which industry stakeholders can use to mitigate the legal challenges of AI in real estate and adopting ethical AI practices, while safeguarding the rights and interests of all stakeholders

Rajesh is the only Singapore lawyer serving on the Legal Advisory Group to the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) UK Centre for Digital Trade and Innovation. As an appointed member of the Global Partnership on Artificial Intelligence (GPAI) OECD project, he contributes actively to the multinational initiative by providing a representative deep dive into Singapore's legislations on Artificial Intelligence and brainstorming on innovative best practices in complying with global regulatory guidelines.

Mr Michael Lees
Chief Operating Officer,
Rajah & Tann Technologies

Rajah & Tann Technologies, a Legal tech corporate venture wholly owned by Rajah & Tann Singapore, provides legal technology and digital risk management services to support clients navigating the digital economy.

Since 1994, Michael has been practising digital transformation in the legal, justice and law enforcement domains, working with Courts, Commissions of Inquiry, Government legal advisors, law firms, NGOs, and international organisations in criminal, commercial and civil contexts. He has headed interdisciplinary teams delivering technology services in areas such as eCourts, eDiscovery, investigations management, knowledge management, legal service automation, and contract management. With broad experience in digital legal operations and innovation, Michael has successfully advised and supported organisations in their digitalisation and transformation journeys.

Prior to joining Rajah & Tann Technologies, Michael was the Head of Legal Technology and Innovation at Attorney-General's Chambers (Singapore), and the head of Knowledge Services in the Office of the Prosecutor at the International Criminal Court, headquartered in the Netherlands.
